The Races To Be A Feature
Of The Fair

Tuesday marked the opening of the Knox county fair at Lake Hiawatha park for the year of 1910. The fair this year promises to far excel those of previous years in every way. A great deal more general interest is shown both by townspeople and by the farmers than heretofore and with those sentiments, the fair cannot help but be a grand success. Tuesday was the opening day and of course, the crowd present consisted mainly of those making entries and those who are preparing to furnish the amusement entertainments for the great number of patrons who will be present during the remaining three days of the fair when everything will be seen in full blast with all of the exhibitions and pastimes complete.

Do not think that there was nothing of interest to be seen on Tuesday for a large number of the entries were already placed for inspection and they were all A No. 1. The dance hall has been converted into a room to be used by the merchants of Mt. Vernon. This is an excellent plan and the merchants show and display their goods to the best possible advantage. Starting at the northeast corner of the hall and going west and on around the displays are as follows: The Collier, Whittington electrical supplies, the Bell telephone exhibitions and demonstrations, the Parr shoe store display, where the patrons are welcome to call and receive a pretty souvenir thermometer, the Ahern green house display, the Singer Sewing Machine Co's. wares, the Fish & Lybarger shoe store exhibition and but not least, the display of clothing and furnishings of the Milton Lewis clothing store. Taking the display of the merchants in all, it is a very pretty and interesting sight and no one of the fair goes can afford to miss it.

On going from the dance hall, the proper way to see everything in good order is to go directly west and visit the tents containing the magnificent specimens of farm animals. In one large tent is a lot of choice cattle, just south of this being the pony tent, where everyone is bound to be interested by the pretty ponies, which stare at you with knowing eyes. The last of the animal tents contains the hog and sheep display. Here is seen a number of first-class sheep of the common breed generally seen in this portion of the country and then there are a number of strange kinds of sheep which are worthy of a close study. The pigs are in separate pens by themselves where they can be viewed to the best advantage.

Going from the animal tents, the first thing in order is the large tent just across the driveway north of the auditorium. This is the display given by the Milford and Clinton granges. The Milford grange is on the north side of the tent and the Clinton grange is on the south side. Here is a place where a grand variety of things can be seen. Antique articles of apparel and house furnishings are in abundance. Probably the most interesting article of an aged nature is a deed for land drawn up in 1742. This deed was given by John Knowles to Philip Weller in the year mentioned above, making it one hundred and sixty-eight years old. This, if you remember, was thirty-four years before the revolutionary war. Besides these colonial curiosities, there is a fine exhibition of fruit and vegetables which will make your mouth water if you linger long.

Just north of this is a sight to make the farmers glad. A grand display of the latest farm implements such as plows, corn drills, wagons and many other useful articles on the farm are to be seen.

A thing which will probably interest the majority of the spectators is the poultry departments. This is located in the same place as last year, almost directly north of the boat house and across the driveway. Chickens of various kinds and colors such as Leghorns, Plymouth Rocks, Buff Orpingtons, Buff Cochins, Partridge Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, White Wyandottes. There is also an exhibition of fine turkeys at this place.

In the building just southeast of the dining hall is found canned fruit, jellies, vegetables and grain galore. It is practically a farmers' paradise and should be visited by all means.

Another great attraction at the fair is the display shown in the dining hall. Here is found articles of the greatest interest along the lines of fine linens and handwork. Articles of apparel and housefurnishings are to be seen which were made in the colonial days when everything was done by hand. Some of these are works of art accomplished by the needle before the Revolutionary war and some of them were made during the war. Besides the needle work, an abundance of chin ware and hand painted work is on exhibition.

In the way of sports and outside amusements, nothing has been left undone by the committee in charge of the fair. The merry-go-round, the "wave," the boating and bathing, the ball throwing galleries and the races are among the principal things. All preparations for the races on Wednesday were made several days ago and on Tuesday morning and afternoon, men were working on the track and it has been worked into excellent shape. Some fast heats will undoubtedly be made this afternoon.

In Speech

Hamilton, O., Sept. 14—Falling 30 feet out of a tree has caused Tony Bokins, aged 8 years, son of James Bokins, to be able to talk in an intelligent way.

UNDER THE DUST

Of Centuries A "Wynants 1669" Is Found In Detroit

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14—The signature, "Wynants, 1669," was found beneath the dust of centuries on a canvas bought for a song in a second-hand shop here some time ago. The painting appeared in the Detroit Museum and Art today and its history was told.

It belongs to John A. Steen, an attorney and collector of antiques. He purchased it of a woman who had bought it because she admired the frame. It was so dirty the figures were almost indistinguishable.

A painter finished the cleaning process last Saturday. The canvas will be sent to New York and sold.

JAP

Bridegroom Has Money And
Mamma Is Happy

St. Louis, Sept. 14—Another marriage between a Japanese and an American girl, which sprang out of the St. Louis world's fair, like several others in the past two years, took place yesterday, when Miss Freda Gast, of 919 South Taylor avenue, went to Springfield, Ill., with her mother and became the wife of Yukinube Yamamoto, a concessionaire at Delmar Garden.

Yamamoto lives at 5169 Fairmont avenue, having come to St. Louis in 1904 with the Japanese exhibit at the world's fair. He comes from Tokio and brought with him quite an amount of money, which, when the fair was over he used to buy out several concessions of Japanese ball rolling at summer gardens. Later he sold out his interest in his stands at the other gardens, but still runs that at Delmar.

Miss Freda Gast has been until recently, a clerk in a wholesale drug company. A woman at her home last night would give no information regarding her. The woman denied that she was the mother of the girl and answered to all questions, "Well, can't a girl marry any one she likes?"

At the house where Yamamoto boards on Fairmont avenue, another Japanese, who would not give his name, stated that Yamamoto had left the house early in the morning, without stating that he was to be married. He said he had his trunks all packed, but had not taken them from the house. Yamamoto has known the Gast girl about two years and has been keeping steady company with her for the past year. Neighbors say she is very pretty. Yamamoto is good looking and larger than most of his race.

It is said the couple will reside some place on Locust street. It was stated last night at the home of Yamamoto that he was still in Springfield.

The Jap who was seen last night was once a partner of Yamamoto, but dissolved his partnership this summer and started out for himself. He would give no information regarding Yamamoto. A dispatch from Springfield last night stated that Mrs. Gast, the girl's mother, seemed delighted after the knot had been tied.

ONION

Crop In Ohio To Be Very Short

Help! Help! Help!
The good old onion crop is short. According to a statement made by the secretary of the state board of agriculture, the crop this year will fall far short of that of last year's yield. Last year over 1,250,000 bushels were grown in Ohio. But from present indications the crop this year will not exceed 1,100,000 bushels. The weather hasn't been just right for onion growing, there being too much rain and then the continued drought.

Ohio farmers are fast waking up to the possibilities in onions. Under favorable conditions every acre will give at least 30 bushels and even at 50 cents that is very good money.

STRUCK

By Lightning Was The
Gardner School House

The Gardner school house, located near Hedding chapel, was struck by lightning on Monday evening at about five o'clock during the severe electrical storm which swept over this part of the country. The school children had just left the building for their homes and luckily, no one was injured. A large hole was torn in the roof and a bolt of lightning played havoc with a number of the students' desks. No fire was started as a result of the lightning and the building was repaired and made in readiness for the session of school on Tuesday morning.

JOSEPH ARCH SERIOUSLY ILL

London, Sept. 14—Joseph Arch, the former noted leader and member of parliament, is seriously ill at his home in Warwick. In view of his advanced age—he will be eighty-four next November—his recovery is doubtful. A generation ago Mr. Arch was looked upon as the foremost labor leader in England, and certainly no man ever did more for the amelioration of the condition of the English farm laborer. In 1872 he originated the National Agricultural Laborers' Union, which became of the strongest labor organizations in the country and almost completely revolutionized the condition of the farm hand, who was then little more than a serf.

RHEUMATISM

PAINFUL & DANGEROUS

Rheumatism is due to a diseased condition of the blood cells and corpuscles, brought about by an excess of uric acid in the circulation. It is not only a very painful disease but an extremely dangerous trouble. The briny, acid state of the blood gradually forms a coating over the muscles, and by depositing a cement-like substance in the joints frequently terminates fatally, or leaves its victim a hopeless cripple. It is natural to "doctor" the spot that hurts, and it is quite right to use liniments, hot applications, etc., to get temporary relief from a painful joint or swollen tendon; but Rheumatism is not a skin disease, and such things, when depended on alone make one careless, and the disease gets a firmer hold on the blood. S. S. S. cures the disease because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, it goes into the circulation, and removes every particle of the irritating uric acid, builds up the blood, makes it rich and oily, and in this way prepares it for the proper nourishment of all joints, muscles, nerves and bones. If you have Rheumatism, get the uric acid out of the blood by taking S. S. S., a purely vegetable medicine, and enjoy freedom from its misery. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

One year of performance is better than ten years of promise. The Mt. Vernon Business College has made good.

We weren't experimenting on Mt. Vernon the past three years with our local Branch School. We knew just what we were doing. Business men had pledged enough students for a fine class before even the first announcement, and each year was a grand success—this one will be even better.

Your money couldn't secure you a better education—no matter where you want. There is only one BEST—and in College Systems, and methods we control them absolutely. We pay large salaries to instructors who know their business and graduates of this school need never be out of a position—we guarantee that.

Stay at home with your family and go to business college in your home town—what can you ask better than that—especially when you have everything that the big city college can offer—nothing different but the size of the school, and that can certainly be no disadvantage.

DIES

Of Grief Following An Auto Accident

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 14—When Charles W. East, aged 48 years, hardware merchant, died Tuesday his family and friends were confident that grief hastened the end.

East suffered from heart trouble a year ago, but apparently had recovered, until about six weeks ago, when he accidentally killed a nine-year-old girl. His automobile hit her while she was playing in the street.

After seeing the girl lifeless in the street East had to be assisted to his home. He went to bed and never left it.
